Directory of Wholesale Offerings

Five Flavors Herbs is proud to offer a robust range of products at wholesale pricing. Our bulk extracts are stocked by many herbal pharmacies around the country, while our retail-ready products shine in online shops and on the shelves of natural food stores and clinics. Ask us about own-label distribution!

Commitment to Quality

Superior products are only possible with superior medicinals. We source from the most reputable herb suppliers, including local farms and responsible wildcrafters. We are proud to work only with Chinese herb distributors who employ rigid standards and quality assurance testing, and continually offer us better access to organically grown Chinese medicinals. All of the Western herbs we buy are certified organic, locally grown, or ethically wildcrafted. Each of our vendors goes through our GMP supplier qualification program, and each herb is analyzed against our rigorous specifications to ensure the identity, purity, and potency of every medicinal. We are registered to produce certified organic products by CCOF.

Our Approach

Launched by a professional herbalist / acupuncturist, and a medical doctor, Five Flavors Herbs bridges the therapeutic traditions of East and West. We combine scientific research and clinical practice with millenniums old theory of healing, offering reliable tools for practitioners and purveyors. Whether you run your own herbal apothecary, manage the supplements section at a natural foods store, or distribute products to health care professionals, our standard-bearing products are sure to excel. Truly unique formulations, our extract line stands out both in approach and effectiveness.

Single Herb Tinctures

We offer nearly 400 single herb extracts, including medicinals from the Western materia medica, Traditional Chinese Medicine, Ayurvedic healing, and our local landscape. Many are extracted from fresh harvests.
